STUDENT START-UP CASE STUDIES

Kiwis

MSc International Tourism student, Daniel Eedy, found inspiration whilst travelling to start his own Acai Smoothie Bowl business, a nutritious dish originally from Brazil. With advice from the Enterprise Team, Daniel developed his idea and used funding from the Big Pitch to help launch his business in Swansea earlier this year. He often trades at pop-up spaces in Swansea and has stock for sale on Swansea University's Singleton Campus.

Aspera

Ashima Anand is a third year Civil Engineering student with a passion for plants and all things natural. She was supported by the Enterprise Team to launch her very own plant shop, which began as an online store until she was able to use funding and mentorship received through The Big Pitch to open her first brick and mortar store in Swansea City Centre.

Dream Events Designs

Between her studies, third year Nursing student, Kelsey Milward, followed her creative flare and was supported by the Enterprise Team to launch her own side-hustle business, Dream Events Designs, providing planning, equipment and props for all manner of events and special occasions.

WHAT OUR STUDENTS & STAFF SAID

Throughout my Social Enterprise module, I've gained a greater awareness of how Social Enterprises are initiated and organised, and how they play an important role in the Health and Social Care sector. The Enterprise Team and Academics who delivered the module are knowledgeable, informative and have been very approachable throughout. We also had the privilege of a few guest speakers who were either employed within the Health and Social Care sector or had started their own Social Enterprise venture. This complimented the content of the module and was beneficial for the assignments. I'm now aware of how setting up a Social Enterprise is achievable, and that there is accessible support and assistance for the formation of these ventures from the Enterprise Team.

Catherine Gourlay BSc Health and Social Care

The Enterprise Team have been really helpful from the start, they've supported my business with funding, opportunities to trade both on campus and in the city, which has allowed me to meet other businesses, promoted my business on the university's social medias and grown the awareness of my business and my customer base faster than I could have on my own. I would recommend anyone starting a business to get in touch with the Enterprise Team, the opportunities have been endless.

> Ashima Anand Aspera

The Enterprise Team within REIS forms a vital function within the University. With enterprise education becoming more prevalent and embedded across all programs they have proved to be an excellent support resource within the business management program- especially. They have provided pedagogic support in a number of ways namely running seminars, providing guest speakers, and extracurricular activities supporting the learning and teaching function within the enterprise subject group. They are great people to work with displaying a 'can do' attitude in a way that students respond to. As an institution we are lucky to have them.

David Bolton

Program Director BSc Business Management and President Elect Enterprise Educators UK

We get a lot of support from the Enterprise Team in our module on Scientific Innovation and Entrepreneurship, introducing our students to the Swansea Innovation ecosystem, and providing them with the bread and butter to start their own business. We also get support about activities on campus that are of interest for students, in the context of entrepreneurship.
